

“Ten Tiers new release Don’s Club Tavern Part One is a smash hit... combining all the key elements that are right up there with all-star material: Timely,conscious and right on the money. Here’s a band to watch out for.

“Jonathan Tiersten is one of the five best songwriters to come out of the Denver and Boulder area in the last fifteen years and that includes Big

“How To Love You”, a swirling rocker that shows off the band’s myriad strengths.
Michael Roberts, Westword Magazine

“Don’s Club Tavern Part I. Named for the erstwhile dive bar on Sixth Street in Denver, the homage shows off a songwriting quality nearly unparalleled in the Mile High and beyond. It’s easy to imagine Tiersten breaking onto the big time.” March

“Imaginative song writing, powerful vocals backed by amazing melodies...”

“I’m really getting into the new album with two songs ALREADY thrusting themselves into my subconscious as I write (and in general) - The title track’s hook grabbed me from the very first listen, and just gets better each listen. And I was surprised to find myself really loving the 13th track on the album, a nice surprise track (November perhaps is it’s title?) that I think is my current favorite...”

Sean Crouch - Lead Writer for the CBS hit show Numbers

Ten Tiers

2006 Westword Music Awards Nominee for Pop

The rules were simple. To find something musically unique and never discount any idea...try everything and see what creativity brings.

The result almost three years later is the Ten Tiers of today.

Ten Tiers music is melodically charged and deeply crafted. The band’s lead singer and songwriter Jonathan Tiersten brings a fresh look at today’s alternative music sound.

Jonathan Tiersten and Ten Tiers have gained a growing following by playing tight, energetic shows with wide audience appeal. The band plays consistently at Denver’s main local music venues and is increasingly in high demand regionally and nationally. Recently the band has been branching out in a new direction with soundtracks and movie score work. “How To Love You” is featured in the full length feature film Juncture, recently shown at The Denver Starz International Film Festival. Adam Schalke and Jonathan Tiersten composed the original score for the short film, Demption starring David Krumholz of TV’s N3mbers, which recently debuted at The New York City Downtown Short Film Festival

Ten Tiers is managed by I.W. Enterprises
7140 Zuni Street
Denver, Co. 80221
Management and Promotions: Kathy Josey 720-839-6055